++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Sunshine and scattered showers today, wet and windy tomorrow.

Today:
Sunny spells with just isolated light showers in southwest Britain and Northern Ireland. Elsewhere showers developing more widely, locally heavy at times with a risk of hail and becoming confined to north and northeast later. A little warmer.

Tonight:
Rain, heavy at times, spreading northeastwards across much of southern Britain and Northern Ireland, accompanied by strong winds. Clear periods developing in north and northeast as showers decay.

Saturday:
Wind and rain spreading north across the UK, this heavy and persistent across parts of southwest. Rain clearing across Northern Ireland and southeast UK to give a mainly dry afternoon.

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Rain bands both clearing the far north and slow moving, turning showery across central and southeastern England on Sunday. Sun and showers, heavy in places, on Monday and Tuesday. Windy.
